FIRENZI BEATEN AGAIN.

BUT SHE RUNS A REMARKABLE RACE

CONNEMARA, WITH ON Y NINETY-EIGHT POUNDS, GETS HOME FIRST.

Although Firenzi was defeated again yesterday she posed that she was out of condition. Some of her warmest admirers and friends excused her defeat by Kingston on Thursday by saying that she must have lost her speed for the time and could not have been at all berself. It is true that when she succumbed to Kingston she was not as great a racer as on the day when she won both heats of the Great Long Island takes in a common canter. But the Kingston race did She was lively and gay after that race, ed an excellent appetite, and ate all the oats even her. This proved that her run with Kingston ed her rather than injured her. Yet the air was full of predictions that she would fall licap to Eurus, Dunboyne and Belvidere. The filly carried 126 fb, Eurus and Belvidere had only 114 each, and Dunboyne 110. Hence by the schedule by the schedule Firenzi was conceding Eurus and videre 15 ib each, Dunboyne 19, and Connemara less than 30 ib. This was a stupendous task take up, and doubt of her ability to accomplish it was freely expressed on all sides. It was always headed. possible to get even money or better against her in headed. Anderson heid her hard all the close with her, but the ring. But Firenzi made it clear that she is as she drew away. Firenzi disposed of her other opponents she did what no other horse now in training in this country can do, defeating such excellent handicap horses as Belvidere, Eurus and Dunboyne, not to provide the country of the large such excellent handicap horses as Belvidere, Eurus and Dunboyne, not to the country of the large such as the drew away. Firenzi disposed of her other oth ention Le Logos, at such enormous disadvantage FIFTH RACE-PURSE $1.000. SELLING. SIX FURtook it into her crazy head to run away with the race. If any one of the lot had started after Connemara in the first half mile and had caught her, as might have been done in that part of the race. Connemara would have quit and fallen back to last

When the flag fell Dunboyne and Eurus were slightly in front, but the start was excellent. In few strides, however, Connemara shot into the lead, casy pull, she led every foot of the way from there to the finish. Firenzi was full of running, and never did she fight harder for her head than she sught with Garrison all through the first mile. time was slow, although the track was in better ondition than on Thursday. The first quarter mile three-quarters in 1:19 1-2, and the mile in Again, as on Thursday, Garris 1:45 1-2.

1:46 1-2. Again, as on Thursday, Garrison failed in judgment of pace. When castly, and Connemara leading so easily under a pull in the first half of the race, run in 1:10 1-2. Garrison might well have let Firenzi gilde up to Connerama, run with her a few strides, and make Connerama quit the rasicut possible thing to do: and then, without having taken anything out of his mount, without having taken anything out of his mount, without having taken anything out of his mount, without having injured Firenzi's chances in the least, keeping all her nonivalled staying power and her remarkable speed still in reserve he could have pulled her gently back to the others, and gone away when he reached the half-mile post. But he was not satisfied with keeping Firenzi far behind Connerama, nor would he give Firenzi a chance by riding her under a gentle pull instead of under a violent choking drag at her throat. He pulled her until her head was twisted far to one side, and it looked almost as if he would break her neck. In spite of all his efforts she kept second place for the first threequaters of a mile, then the choking and tugging at her heat and throat disgusted, discouraged and disheartened her. She fell back to last place and there remained until the final half-mile was entered. On the lower turn Garrison loosened his grip on Firenzi's throat. She shot by the rest of the field as if they heartened her. She fell back to last place and there remained until the final half-mile was entered. On the lower turn Garrison loosened his grip on Firenzi's throat. She shot by the rest of the field as if they were standing still, and set chase for Connemara. But little Anderson had ridden Connemara with excellent judgment of pace and exceptional skill, keeping much speed in reserve. He looked back, and at just the instant when Firenzi becan to move up he called on Connemara. With her featherweight in the called on Connemara. With her featherweight in the saddle she shot away like a rocket and in a furious opened a gap of half a dozen lengths. This Firenzi could never close at the difference in weights, and Connemara came home an easy winner, with Firenzi second, a head before Dunboyne.

Connemara's victory was unpopular. No one was pleased except the very few small betters who had risked a five-dollar bill on her chances at 15 to 1. Everyone sympathized with the Queen of the Turi in her undescrived and deplorable defeat. Racting is all wrong when such a mare as Firenzi can be beaten twice in the same year at the same distance by such trash as Connemara. At Long Franch Connemara, carrying 100 to Firenzi's 121, beat her at a mile and a half. In spite of all her subsequent defeats, Connemara mare, at less than 100 pounds, while Firenzi's weight was raised to 126 pounds. It matters not that Firenzi has scored many memorable triumphs since Connemara has been det na gainst Firenzi any tune, no matter if she should live for twenty years more, at less than 100 pounds, while Firenzi's weight was raised to 126 pounds. It matters not that Firenzi has corred many memorable triumphs since Connemara connemara is to be let in a race at such weights at to upset all form, all reason, all consistency! It was a wonderful feat for Firenzi to beat the horses which were behind her, at the weights. It was nothing were behind her, at the weights. onnemara is to be let in a race at such weights as a urset all form, all reason, all consistency! It was wonderful feat for Firenzi to beat the horses which ere behind her, at the weights. It was nothing onderful for Connemara to get home first with be unds, nor particularly creditable either. Such a result as this disgusts every reasonable an with handicapping, even with handicapping generally successful and admirable as that of Mr. Claury. John Kelly, the able, clear-striked and

Such a result as this disgusts every reasoname man with handicapping, even with handicapping so generally successful and admirable as that of Mr. McIntyre. John Kelly, the able, clear-sighted and popular turfman, spoke with several owners after Connemara's defeat of Firenzi, and suggested that it would be a good plan hereafter to have two classes of handicaps, one with a minimum weight of say 110 founds, or something of that sort, and a reasonable top limit. In such a handicap as this all the best horses could run, and every one of them could have a chance. Then have another class of handicaps with top weights of 110 pounds, perhaps, and bottom weights of 80, or even less. In that class lot such stuff as Connemara and creatures of her sort cavort and disport themselves. Mr. Kelly's suggestion met with much favor from many owners. It would be an excellent idea to carry it out. Mr. Kelly's ideas of racing are always sound, and sensible, and jockey clubs would do well to adopt some such plan as this. What satisfaction can there he for any honorable and upright turfman to run such horses as Firenzi against such a mare as Connemara has been this year? In eleven races out of twelve Connemara sulks in the worst style, and comes in far in the rear. Let us have handicaps which will bring out the best horses on fair terms, and make racing that will be a satisfaction to remember. If connemara had never started for the Boulevard Handicap, it would have been a true, honest and satisfactory race in every way. The betting would have been usedlent between Firenzi, Eurus, fielviders and Dunboyne, at the weights. There would then have been no blunders in riding, no serious misjuddment of place. Public form would have been justified and peerless merit on the turf would have eccelved its adequate acknowledgment and reward. Such a ridiculous mess as the success of Connemara distourages owners of such horses as Firenzi from running their horses at heavy weights, which after all is the true giory of handicapping and the best test of cat's meat of the Connemara type is chicked in a featherweight.

Little "Spider" Anderson rode three winners Larchmont, Connemara, and Patrocles. Anderson has improved vastly since last spring and now ranks among the best lightweight fockeys.

Little Palmer threw away the second race with the favor to Specialty, by pulling her and choking her behind the field while Question ran away it front. Palmer deserved a sound striping from Uncle Bill Daly, who has bought Specialty from Greet Morris for $3,000. Uncle Bill's arm is not light and probably the boy got his deserts.

ELECTION INSPECTORS AND ADVERTISING.

THE POLICE BOARD CHOOSES THE TRIBUNE AND "THE NEWS"-A NEW POLICE CAPTAIN.

The Police Commissioners yesterday designated Aller papers in which the election advertising is to be placed this year. They selected the same newsplaced this year. They selected the same news-papers last year and the year before, and The Tribune has been chosen for several years because it has a larger circulation than any other Republi-can newspaper in the city. The provisional estimates for the Police Depart ment for 1889 were prepared by the Commissioners yesterday, and the grand total to be asked from he Board of Estimate and Apportionment is $4,-452,289 54.

Sergeant William Thompson, of the Elizabethst. squad, was promoted to the rank of Captain, in the place of Captain Charles McDonnell, of the Prince-st. squad. Captain Thompson was off duty and did not hear of his good fortune. He will be swora into office to-day and will take command of the Prince-st. squad, but his assignment to the Eighth Precinct was said to be only temporary. He is a fine-looking policeman, of middle age, and a New-Yorker by birth. Since his appointment as ember of the police force, in 1866, he has been a Tammany Hall Democrat. Commissioner MacLean moved yesterday to make Thompson a captain, and Fire Commissioner Croker is said to have urged the promotion. Thompson was second on the eligible list. His record as a policeman has been gible list. His record as a policeman has been fair, although he has no special mention for bravery or ability. He was once shot at by river thieves and escaped injury because the bullet struck a button of his uniform.

Chatles E. Gildersleeve, Secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, sent a communication to the Police Board, declaring that the law against lotterles was violated by drawings at the Anti-Poverty Fair, in the Madison Square Garden. Superintendent Murray was directed to make the police enforce the law.

PINE SITES POR SUBURBAN HOMES A great deal of work has been done along the water front of Staten Island during the last season and numerous tracts of farm land have been laid out into beautiful villa sites by topographical engineers, the most elaborate and striking improvements accomplished being the new viliage now known as Garretson, which has been created out of the old Garretson farm by the aid of Contractor Tunis E. Butler. The land is a beautiful tract that extends from the highland to the sea, and it has been graded and drained and the streets and avenues opened and regulated. An elegant new station has also been built by the from the old Richmond road, at its junction with Toadt Hill, and is now finished from that point to the South Side Boulevard, that fronts the ocean on the Lower Bay, making South Beach easily accessible to dwellers on Toadt Hill by one of the prettlest drives on the island. Last July the village was opened up for settlement by an auction sale, when over two hundred lots were sold in one afternoon by Jere, John-son, Jr. The remaining 500 tots will be sold by the same auctioneer, on the premises, without any re-serve whatever, next Tuesday. THE TEACHERS' BUILDING ASSOCIATION. The Teachers' Building and Loan Association, of which J. T. Boyle is president, held its first meeting yesterday in Grammar School No. 47, to loan money to its members. The secretary, R. R. Billington, stated that the association had a membership of a little more than 500, of whom more than 400 are teachers in the public schools. The amount of money in the treasury was $2,400, and a sale of it for loan to the highest bidder among the members was ordered by vote. The bidding started in lively at 3 per cent on a share and ran up in a few minutes to 21 per cent, at which it was sold. This made a premium of about $50 on each share of $240.

SCORES AND RECORDS. A cold, westerly, penetrating wind greeted the spectators at the Polo Grounds yesterday, but after the game between the New-York and Detroit teams had got well under way, the onlookers forgot the cold in their admiration of the stirring contest. It was a battle royal indeed, in which brilliant nocuvres followed each other so quickly that the spectators were kept in a high state of excitement. blunders were also made, but they soon forgotten. Darkness stopped play at the end of the tenth inning, making the contest a drawn battle, as each side had two runs to its credit. Connor, through illness, missed his first champion thip game of the year. O'Rourke, however, filled his place at first base in a creditable manner. Titcomb and Gruber pitched a good game, the youth ful Wolverine having slightly the best of the John B. Brouthers would also have been put out at first, but Ward made a wild throw and Brouthers was advanced to third. Rowe went out to Slattery, but Murphy muffed the throw to the plate and brouthers scored on the error. The New-Yorkers got, their first run in the fourth inning on a hit by Tiernan, a wild throw by Gruber and Elchardson's saccifice. The visiting players got a run in their half of the same inning and again held the advantage. Twitchell, Ganzel and Nicholson made safe hits, filling the bases. home nine winning the game through superior backings shortly after the Allentown players arrived on the grounds, one of their number said that his team had been robbed of the two games played in Newark on Thursday. He charged that Umpre Wiesand hait favored the home club and had deliberately given the game to Newark. It was claimed by this player that wiegand, in the last game, with one man on first base deliberately gave the next three batters their bases on called balls and forced in runs.

It was also said that some of the stockholders sat on the bench and told Wiegan what to do. Manager Charles W. Reuter, of the Allentown club, when he appeared at Oakland Park yesterday, heard that some of his players had been talking and started to investigate. Short-stop O'Niel, who had been talking more openly than the others, was approached by Manager Reuter, and asked what he meant by such talk. "Manager," replied the player, "do you think I will sit still and wilness such bare-faced robbery!" O'Nell's honesty cost him $50 and his suspension. This scenned to intimidate some of the other Allentown players, and they refused to say anything. They promised, however, to tell all they knew after the champlouship season was over. Manager Powers, of the Jersey City club, when seen last night, was highly thelignant, and said that he would bring the matter before the directors of the Central Leagne, and have those games thrown out. PLATFORM ADOPTED AT LAKE MOHONE

REFORMS WHICH PRIENDS OF THE INDIAN AGREE SHOULD BE MADE IN HIS BEHALF.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., Sept. 28 .- This was the last day of the conference of the Friends of the Indians. Dr. William Hayes Ward, of New-York, was elected chairman in place of General Fisk, who was called away on business. Dr. Lyman Abbott, from the Com mitte on Resolutions, reported the platform, which after verbal amendments, was adopted. The res olutions reaffirm the principles of equal rights; declare that the Indian is not a foreigner and should not be the object of treaty, but should be subject to the same laws as the civilized communities among which he lives; that adequate courts should be es tablished to defend his righ s and urge upon the favorable consideration of Congress the Thayer bill, ow pending in the Senate. It is also urged that the Government should make ample provision for the education of all Indian children in the English language, in the common industrial arts and sciences the habits and proprieties of civilized life. The platform concludes as follows: This education should be compulsory, but in principles of compulsion which are recognized as legiti-mate in the free commonwealths of the world. The Indian child should be required to receive such education as will fit him for civilized life and for self-support, but his parents should be left at absolute libercy to choose between the Government and the private school, so should be permanent. Removals should be made only for inefficiency, incompetency or other unfitness, and the entire Indian educational service, from the super-intensient of schools to the primary teachers, should, in the interest of honest administration and efficient work, be exempt from those changes and that in-stability of tenure which appertain to political and party appointments. In view of the great work which the Christian charities have done in the political and moral well-being, an element of education which, in the nature of the case, the National Govern ment cannot give, the churches should be allowed the largest liberty, not, indeed, to take away the responsi-bility from the Government in its legitimate sphere of educational work, but to supplement it to the fulles extent in their power by such schools, whether primary normal or theological, as are at the sole cost of th the Indian transitional movement the churches should arouse themselves to the magnitude and emergency the duty thus laid upon them in the providence of God. A resolution, suggested by General Armstrons was adopted, urging the Indian Bureau to permit Indians desiring to do so to receive farming utensil and other tools in place of the customary allowance

THE COLOMBIA COLLEGE YEAR BEGUN.

UPPER CLASSMEN MATRICULATE-A CHAT THE ACTING PRESIDENT.

Although the formal opening of Columbia College will not take place until Monday, the college in reality opened yesterday. All day long the buildings were througed with the students, who seemed greatly pleased to see the familiar faces of classmates and professors. The matriculation of the senior and junior classes kept the registrar and treasurer busy from 9 o'clock until late in the afternoon. To-day the sophomores and fre-hmen will matriculate, so that all preliminary work will be out of the way before Monday, when the classes will begin their recitations.

Acting President Drisler was hard at work when a Tribune reporter called on him. He said: "It is too early yet to say just what the prospects for the year are. So far the classes are showing up well. I cannot say how large the freshman class will be until after the men matriculate. Dr. 'Harry' Short, who instructed the sophomore class in Latin last year, has resigned, and his place will be filled by promo-tion. Dr. Jackson is still abroad, and the junion penter. Professor Merriam has returned from bis charge of the American School at Athens, and will resume the care of the juntor Greek class." Professor H. T. Peck will continue in charge of the vacant Latin class until the trustees shall fill it. Pro-fessor Peck seems to be the students' choice for the position, and it is possible that the trustees will appoint him to it. The registrar told the reporter that there were 156 candidates for admission to the probable that the freshman class will not contain over 100. A rough estimate of the number who will be admitted this year in all departments is 450. The total number of students will probably reach 1,900.

President Barnard, whose resignation will take effect as soon as his successor is appointed, is still as Litchfield, Conn., where he is in the habit of spending his summers. Acting President Drisler has been appointed by the trustees to take all his duties until the new president is elected. The trustees will hold their first meeting of the year on Monday.

THE COURTS.

COUNTER CHARGES OF CRUELTY. A motion was entered yesterday before Judge O'Brien, in the Supreme Court, Chambers, in behalf of Mary Smith, of No. 162 East Eighty-fourth-st., by her counsel, for alimony and counsel fees, against her husband, Thomas Smith, pending judgment in her suit for separation. In her complaint Mrs. Smith charges her husband with cruel and inhuman conduct, with having on several occasions beaten and stabbed her, and with having failed to contribute to her support since July 6 last. She says that on one occasion he was tried and pleaded guilty to stabbing her, and that judgment was another occasion he was bound over for thirty days to keep the peace. She claims that he is worth $400,000, and that he owes her $5,000, and asks for $100 a week alimony and suitable countril fees. Mr. Smith, in his affidavit, makes a general denial of cruelty, and says he is not worth anywhere near of criefly, and says has been not worth anywhere near $400,000. He says that he pays her support, and that of their two children. He makes the conster charges against her that she is now a "confirmed, habitual and notorious drunkard," and that "when drunk she uses profane and obscene language." They have been married about fourteen years. The motion was opposed by De Lancey Nicoll, attorney for Mr. Smith, who presented some new evidence in the case. COURT OF APPEALS CALENDAR.
